Declaration on the world crisis ZKPS, Slovenia

We, ZKPS declare:

- That the world financial crisis is a financial, economic as well as a crisis of values.
- The crisis is felt in the financial sector, economy, devaluation of companies, canceled orders, unemployment etc.
- We believe that the origin of the present crisis is primarily the crisis of personal values.
- As Christians and as Christian entrepreneurs we wish to recall our deep commitment to the fundamental values
- We believe we have engaged into a lifestyle of non-evangelical values as consumption, worldly success, disrespect to people, society and nature; corruption, distrust, self-centeredness.

We believe a renewed approach to values would lead to overcoming the crisis.

- Ending the crisis is going to be a long-term project of various financial systems, governments, leadership structures and predominantly of an individual.
- The reestablishment of stability will evolve from transformation of the current values and of our intense personal involvement.
- We can come out of the crisis as a better, richer and more experienced people, businessmen and Christians.
- We will endeavor to change the situation through prayer, personal devotion, by taking all dimensions of social responsibility.
- We will endeavor to built business as a union of creative people, working to assure the present and future for their families and for common good; with a foundational principal 'personal dignity of man, created in God's image'.
